—After October 1st F. R. Lanson at his store will sell oleomargarine. None but the freshest and purest article will be handled, and at a price within reach of all.

—A ball team from Endeavor came down in Homer Ball's auto Saturday afternoon to cross bats with a team here and went home with the short end of a 14 to 3 score.

—Oleomargarine always fresh, always the same price and making new friends each day, at 20c per pound in nine pound lots, at the Salton Creek Mercantile Co., Kellestville, Pa.

—S. S. Sigworth is showing a twelve-foot stalk of corn which was grown on the lot at the rear of his store. Now bring on your tall corn stories and see if you can beat this.

—If you know of the real value of Chamberlain's Liniment for lame back, soreness of the muscles, sprains and rheumatic pains, you would never wish to be without it. For sale by all dealers.

—Much of the buckwheat crop is being harvested. The yield is more than the average through this section, and it is hoped the weather may be more favorable for harvesting, than was the case with the oats crop.

—Lewis Cook started for Pittsburgh yesterday with three barges for Collins, Darrah & Co., of Nebraska, and has six flat boats also to run. J. A. Lawrence has a fleet of four barges to run for the Forest Barge Co.

—Potato rot is everywhere reported, and the chances that looked so good for a big crop a few weeks ago, have almost gone glimmering. But as the acreage is larger than usual this season it is probable the price may be kept within sight anyway.

—Mrs. Axel Aronson let a window fall on her right arm at her home last Wednesday and fractured the bone at the elbow. The injury is very painful and she will not be able to perform her usual household duties for a few weeks. Dr. Dunn attended her.

—Dr. M. W. Easton, Osteopathic Physician, of Oil City, will visit Tionesta every Wednesday. See him at the Central House. Setting bones and the treatment of nervous and chronic diseases a specialty. Greatest success in all kinds of chronic diseases.

—The post office department at Washington has issued notice to postmasters that all the mail boxes on rural routes shall be painted white with red signals. The number of routes, the name of patron and number of the box must also be stenciled in black lettering.

—By authority of the First Assistant Postmaster General, the post office at West Hickory will be closed at seven p. m., beginning Sept. 30, 1922. All patrons of the office will kindly have their mail in the office by this hour.

F. C. CARSON, P. M.

—A change in the time of the services at the M. E. church will take effect next Sunday, Sept. 22. Sunday school at 10 a. m., S. B. Maxwell, superintendent. Special music by the Junior Choir. Epworth League at 6:30. Rev. B. F. Pitt will preach at 7:30. Special music by the choir. The mid-week meeting will be conducted Thursday evening by Angus Carson.

—Hugh Miles of Fagundus passed his 91st birthday Saturday, the 14th. The rare event was celebrated in a modest way by the customary meeting of the Fagundus Aid Society and friends at his home on that date.

—James Furman, many years ago a resident of this county, where he was a well known lumber jobber on the creek and river, died suddenly of heart failure at his home at Lima, Ohio, on the 14th inst. Our older citizens remember him well and favorably. His wife, four daughters and one son survive, Mrs. A. W. Richards, of Warren, being one of the daughters.

—Dr. Geo. B. Johnson, of Franklin, an inspector for the State Livestock Sanitary Board, was up to Nebraska Thursday to investigate the death of a cow owned by E. S. Blauer, which had been reported to him. He decided that the cow had died from over-eating and that there was no disease. A number of other cows were reported sick but the doctor could not find anything seriously wrong.

—Next Sunday, Sept. 23d, will be the last Sunday before the annual session of the Oil City Conference of the Free Methodist church, and Rev. G. A. Garrett, pastor of the local church, will deliver his last sermon for the year at Newmansville at 11 a. m. and at Tionesta at 7:30 p. m. He will leave Sept. 25th for the conference, which will be held at Tyrone, Pa., from the 25th to the 30th. Rev. Mr. Garrett is finishing the second year of his pastorate here and expects to return, which will be good news to the members of his congregations and other friends.

—Special music at the Presbyterian church Sunday, both morning and evening, were attractive features of the services. In the morning Prof. Gill, O. Tidoute, rendered a solo of unusual sweetness and that seemed to fit the sermon admirably. In the evening, besides the violin solos by Miss McAlpin, mentioned elsewhere, Mr. E. C. Joy, of Erie, uncle of Mrs. Isaac McCoy, pleased the congregation with a solo, and the male quartette, composed of Rev. H. A. Bailey, Mr. Jay Bankhead, Mr. Howard Donley and Dr. F. J. Bovard, also rendered a very pleasing hymn.

—Forest Mong, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Mong, of Tionesta township, had his right ankle badly injured last Wednesday while assisting his father in clearing up some ground on their farm. The team of horses was dragging a big stone and gave a sudden spring, catching the young man's foot against another stone and dragging the load over it, badly tearing the ligaments of the ankle. Dr. F. J. Bovard was called to attend him and found the member so much swollen that it was impossible to ascertain whether any bones were broken. The young man is confined to his bed and will be laid up for some time.

—Philadelphia is making great preparations to receive the great army of Sunday-school workers that will flock to the City of Brotherly Love to participate in the Jubilee State Sunday-school Convention. The celebration will begin Saturday, October 5th, when the Sunday-schools of Philadelphia will have their annual fall parade. Sunday, October 6th, will be observed in all the schools as Decision Day. Friday, October 11th, will be Recognition Day, when Sunday-school veterans showing records of fifty years of service as Sunday-school teachers or officers will be presented with medals. It will be a big week.

—When Colonel Bessy, the well known P. R. R. baggage master running from Olean on the night train of the Salamanca branch, arrived last night, he was accompanied by a blacksnake that is said to have measured 11 feet, but no opportunities to verify the statement were afforded. The colonel disclaimed any credit for capturing the reptile, which was very much alive. On the contrary, he expressed the opinion that it would be a great deal better to carry such express matter on day trains. It was shipped from Tionesta and consigned to the University of Pittsburgh for experimental purposes.—Oil City Derrick, 12th.

—The citizens of Summerville, Jefferson county, suffered the loss of the greater portion of the business section of their town by a fire which broke out in the clothing store of Charles Abrams last Wednesday night at 11:30 o'clock.

Abrams had locked up his store in the morning and prepared to go to Pittsburgh to join in festivities in connection with the Jewish New Year, and just how the fire got started is a mystery which is puzzling the people. The property loss is estimated at about $30,000, covered about fifteen business places, and the insurance does not nearly cover the loss. The Union National bank building and the postoffice are among the property losses.

—The Nebraska W. C. T. U. at a recent meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. Annie Allison; Vice President, Mrs. Annie Thompson; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Marie Klinefelter; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Ida Small; Treasurer, Mrs. Emma Seccor; Superintendents—Soldiers and Sailors, Mrs. Dorcas Thompson; Mothers' Meeting, Mrs. Kate McNaughton; Soldiers' Temperance Instruction, Mrs. Mabel McKen; Mercy, Mrs. Mary Smith; Railroad Work, Mrs. Waive Weaver; Franchise, Mrs. Mary DaWoody; Sabbath Observance, Mrs. Alice Neal; Narcotics, Mrs. Nettie Imhoff; Health and Heredity, Mrs. Tessie Young; Parlor and Social, Mrs. Melissa Combs; Flower Mission, Mrs. Pearl Neal; Miss Mary Thompson, Miss Louisa Gaiser; Temperance Literature, Mrs. Lena Cole; Press, Mrs. Emily J. Cole.

—Last evening while W. E. Eshelman of Summerville, Jefferson county, was driving his car down the river hill opposite the borough, his brakes refused to work and the machine began gathering momentum until it was going at a speed about 40 miles per hour. In the car were C. G. Miller, J. F. Moore and a Mr. Brosius. Taking in the situation the passengers jumped out expecting at every turn of the wheels to see the machine go over the embankment. All were more or less "shook up," but sustained no bad injuries. Mr. Miller being the worst off, having his left leg considerably bruised and gashed. Mr. Eshelman finally got the car stopped by ditching it next the hill side, with nothing further damage than the blowing up of couple of tires. The men say things looked fierce for a few seconds and they consider their escape a mighty lucky hit. Mr. Eshelman is installing a gas engine to run the power plant on the Donovan farm on Stewart run.

—Few, if any, medicines, have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The remarkable cures of colic and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by all dealers.

—Florence Gathers, aged 10 years, daughter of Charles Gathers, of Trunkkeyville, was brought to this city on the evening train Wednesday and taken to the hospital by Dr. Henry. She is suffering from a bullet wound in the left leg near the knee the result of an accidental shooting that occurred while she was enroute home from school in the afternoon. Agent Jones, of the P. R. R., at Trunkkeyville, while out hunting woodchucks, stopped to rest and placed his rifle against a fence. He reached for the weapon as the Gathers girl and a companion were passing and in some manner the cartridge in the rifle exploded. The bullet struck a stone and glanced to one side, striking the girl. An X-ray was taken of the leg today to locate the bullet.—Oil City Bizzard, 12th.

—A genuine and very pleasant surprise was given Mrs. Joseph G. Dale last Saturday afternoon when more than fifty of her lady friends called at her home to assist in the celebration of her 90th birthday anniversary. Each lady carried a basket laden with the dainties of the season, and the afternoon being one of the brightest and loveliest of the year, luncheon was served on the pretty lawn of the old homestead, and in the festivities which followed the venerable hostess entered with a sprightliness of spirit that made her seem as young as those fifty years her junior. Many bouquets of beautiful flowers, tokens of the love and veneration in which Mrs. Dale is held by all, were brought by the guests and artistically arranged about the house and portico. The afternoon was spent in social chat, reminiscent and optimistic, in which were mingled many pleasant recollections bearing on the joyous occasion, and in the early evening the guests took affectionate leave of their hostess wishing her yet many pleasant and peaceful returns of the day.

—The Titusville fair was quite well patronized by people from this section last Thursday. The day was one of perfect weather conditions which fact brought out a record crowd, estimated at fully sixteen thousand people in the afternoon. All the features were good, but the one that held first place was the aeroplane flight. The aviator soared around the park covering a radius of considerably more than a mile, and at one stage reached an altitude of about 1200 feet. His machine worked like a charm and when at the highest point looked as graceful as the American eagle. Early in the afternoon an accident occurred that looked for the moment as though it would result in a fatality. Mrs. Amen Colby, a resident of the city, started to cross the race track while a number of horses were "warming up" for a race. In trying to dodge one of the speeding horses she became confused and stood directly in front of the horse which struck her fairly and dashed her to the ground. The crowd was sure she had been killed, but luckily she escaped with a badly broken nose and bruised shoulders from which injuries she is rapidly recovering. The family once lived at Endeavor and are well known in that community.

Morrow—Fuehlhart Nuptials.

The following account of the Morrow-Fuehlhart wedding is taken from the Tidouite News in which town the ceremony took place. But before proceeding farther the REPUBLICAN desires to offer congratulations and heartfelt good wishes to the affable doctor and his fair bride for a long life of unalloyed bliss:

"An exceptionally pretty wedding was solemnized Tuesday, Sept. 10th, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fuehlhart, when Miss Miss Fuehlhart became the bride of Dr. W. G. Morrow. The ceremony took place at 4:30 o'clock in the southeast living room, the entire back ground being a most gorgeous and beautiful arrangement of hydrangeas, pink asters and amylax. Mendelssohn's Wedding March played by Miss Helen Marks and Miss Anna Grandin, summoned the bride party, Margaret Morrow leading, carried an artistic basket of pink asters from which she daintily strewed flowers along the way; following her came Miss Anna Martin, as bridesmaid, lovely in white chiffon and carrying pink roses. Rev. S. F. Marks and the groom coming from the left awaited the bride, radiantly beautiful in her gown of white chiffon batiste over white satin and carrying white roses. The ring ceremony was used, Miss Marks, and Miss Grandin playing softly at the piano. Following the ceremony refreshments were served to the party seated about the porch and lawn.

"Following their sojourn along the lake, they will make their home at West Hickory where the groom is a practicing physician of integrity and noble christian character. The bride will be missed from this community, where she has grown to womanhood, where she has spent her life, where she has hosts of friends attracted and held in love by her suave, pleasant and cheerful mien. May the newly wed early find the way to that happiness which leads to perfect contentment. The out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Fuehlhart and sons, Rev. and Mrs. S. F. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Siles, Miss Agnes Scherer, and N. P. Wheeler, Endeavor; Miss Alice Siggins, Mr. and Mrs. Vail, Miss Mary Vail of West Hickory; Mrs. Abbott, Tionesta; Mrs. Laura Johnson, North Clarendon; Mr. and Mrs. Russell and Miss Mildred Smith, Lake-wood, N. Y.; Mrs. Lial Briggs, Warren."

Looks Like A Good Oil Strike.

The Enterprise Transit Co. appears to have struck the jugular in a well just finishing on tract 512, at the headwaters of Bear creek, Kingsley twp. Contractor Gesin tapped the sand to the depth of four feet when the well began to act queerly, and in 15 minutes it threw out 18 barrels of oil. The well is on the edge of the gas belt in that locality and in all probability it means the opening of an extensive field. The Enterprise company owns a large body of territory in that section.

Notice.

The blacksmithing business of George C. Henshaw, of Tionesta, has been placed in my hands and all persons indebted to him are requested to make immediate payment, to save costs.

W. H. HOOD, Sheriff.

—Few, if any, medicines, have met with the uniform success that has attended the use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. The remarkable cures of colic and diarrhoea which it has effected in almost every neighborhood have given it a wide reputation. For sale by all dealers.

He has won the confidence of the officials of the company and the good will of all.—Clarion Republican.

Recent Deaths.

KELLOGG.

Mrs. Maria C. Reynolds Kellogg, aged 87 years, one of the oldest residents of McKean county, died at her home in Kane, Pa., at 12:30 a. m. Monday, Sept. 9, 1912, from paralysis. The deceased was born October 17, 1824, and on December 29, 1847, married John A. Kellogg, nine children, four sons and five daughters, being born to this union, seven of whom survive. They are: Alpheus Kellogg, of Dempsytown; Clarence Maze, of Marienville; Fillmore Kellogg, of Sheffield; Joanna Frampton, of Kane; Vestomona Kiefer, of Johnsonburg; Sarah Kellogg, of Kane; John Kellogg, Jr., of Cooksburg, this county. Forty grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren also survive her.

ARMSTRONG.

V. G. Armstrong, of Seattle, Wash., died suddenly in that city, Saturday, Sept. 7th, at 7:45 p. m. He was attending a meeting of a committee of which he was a member, near his home, and about 1:30 o'clock the other members left the room for a short time. When they returned, about fifteen minutes later, they found Mr. Armstrong lying unconscious beside the chair in which he had been sitting. He was removed to his home across the street, where he expired at the hour stated, without regaining consciousness, the trouble doubtless being apoplexy. The deceased was aged about 54 years, and besides his wife he is survived by two sons and a step-daughter, who is remembered in Tionesta as Miss Maud Dennison. The family resided in Tionesta several years, the deceased following his trade of carpenter, and where he bore the respect of all our people as a good citizen, neighbor and friend. Leaving here about nine years ago he moved to Conneaut, Ohio, and about six years ago moved from there to Seattle. His brother, Prof. T. E. Armstrong, for a number of years principal of the Tionesta high school, had gone to Seattle on a visit, reaching there a few days before his brother's sudden death.

IKENBURG.

Mrs. Mary Ikenburg, formerly a resident of Forest county for many years, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Youngk, at Tylersburg, Clarion county, Pa., on Tuesday, September 10, 1912, of infirmities due to advanced age. The deceased was born June 11, 1827, in Armstrong county, Pa., and was a daughter of John Wyatt, a veteran of the War of 1812. Early in life she married John Thompson, of her native county, by which union two children survive her, as follows: Mrs. S. J. Setley, of Tionesta, and Mrs. W. S. Setley, of Ross Run, this county. Mr. Thompson was killed during the early oil excitement while digging the conductor hole for a drilling well near Plummer, Venango county. Some years after the death of her first husband, she married William Ikenburg, of Starr, this county, who was killed by a falling tree twenty-two years ago. The following children by this marriage survive: Mrs. E. L. DeWoody, of Nebraska, Pa.; Mrs. A. C. Ebert, of Glenshaw, Pa.; Mrs. Henry Youngk, of Tylersburg, Pa.; Sylvester Ikenburg, of Valencia, Pa.; Harry Ikenburg, of West Etna, Pa.; and William Ikenburg, of Fellers, California.

One sister, Mrs. Joshua Thompson, of Nebraska, twenty-nine grandchildren and five great grandchildren also survive. The deceased was for many years a consistent member of the Mt. Zion Lutheran church on German Hill, and was known to very many of our people as a kind mother and a faithful friend. Funeral services were conducted in the Zuendel church, German Hill, last Thursday, 12th inst., Rev. G. D. Walker officiating, followed by the interment in the cemetery there.

ROOT.

John Root, well and favorably known to a host of Forest county people, where he was born and reared, but for a number of years a resident of Ostrander, Wash., died Sept. 13, 1912, in a hospital at Portland, Oregon, from blood poisoning from which he had been a sufferer for many weeks. Some years ago Mr. Root received an injury to the knee cap, which began troubling him again about three months ago. In hope of relief he went to the hospital in Portland for treatment about 14 weeks ago and there submitted to an operation for removal of the left leg. After this operation it was hoped he might survive, but the disease had undermined the system to such an extent as to render all efforts of the physicians unavailing, and death came to his relief as above stated. The deceased was born at Ross Run, this county in October, 1848, and was the son of Aaron B. and Elizabeth Root. With his father and brother, Aaron B. Root, Jr., and G. F. Watson, Esq., he engaged extensively in lumber operations in various parts of Forest county, on Bear Creek, Ross Run, Judy Run and Queen.

He is well remembered by our older citizens as a man of enterprise and industry, and as a riverman he had few equals in this section. In the bustling days of the lumbering industry on Tionesta creek the firm with which he was connected floated millions of feet of lumber to the lower market, giving employment to hundreds of men. About 24 years ago the deceased disposed of his interests in this section and removed to Washington Territory where he again joined his former associates in the promotion of lumber operations on a large scale in which occupation he was still engaged when overtaken by illness. In early life he married Miss Emma Gaitton, a daughter of Abraham Gaitton, of Guionville, Forest county, with the following children survive him: Eva, Burr, Edna, Harry and Elizabeth. He is also survived by his aged mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Root, one brother, A. B. Root, and four sisters, Mrs. Teina Dunham, Mrs. E. B. Russell, Miss Sadie Root, all of Washington State, and Mrs. G. F. Watson, of Tionesta. The burial occurred last Sunday.
